

The Descendants of Maria Phillips Rundle and John Henry Carslake

Generation One

1. Maria Phillips¹ Rundle, b. 1819 in St. Neot, Cornwall, ENG,¹ (daughter of Hugh Brice Rundle and Eleanor Lobb), baptized 2 Jun 1819 in St. Neot, Cornwall, ENG,^{1,2} d. 5 Aug 1883 in Dublin, South Australia, Australia,³ resided in South Australia, Australia, buried in Dublin Cemetery, Dublin, South Australia, Australia. I can't find Maria in 1841. Her parents and siblings lived at Ley in St. Neot. She would have been 22 years old and may have been working out of the house.

Maria's brother Brice was living in Torquay, Devon by 1847. It's possible that Maria was visiting him and his family when she met John Carslake.

Maria and John were married in Devon in 1848. Her brother, Brice Rundle and Elizabeth Rundle, Brice's wife, were witnesses.

When their son, Henry, was 12 months old, the family emigrated to Australia. They traveled on the ship "Mary Ann" from Plymouth on 1 January 1849 and arriving in Port Adelaide, South Australia on 3 Apr 1849.

She married John Henry Carslake, 3 Oct 1848 in Tor Mohun, Devon, England,⁴ b. 1814 in Devon, England,³ baptized 14 Feb 1814 in Colyton, Devon, England,² d. 18 Jan 1895 in Mallala, South Australia, Australia.³ He was the son of Henry Ackland Carslake and Caroline Sarah Crago.

In 1841, John Henry was 25 years old and living with his parents and siblings in Colyton, Devon, England.
